

What's happening?

What is the problem?

What is the question I need to answer?

Why it's important to answer to that question?

What are the determinants and/or antecedents?

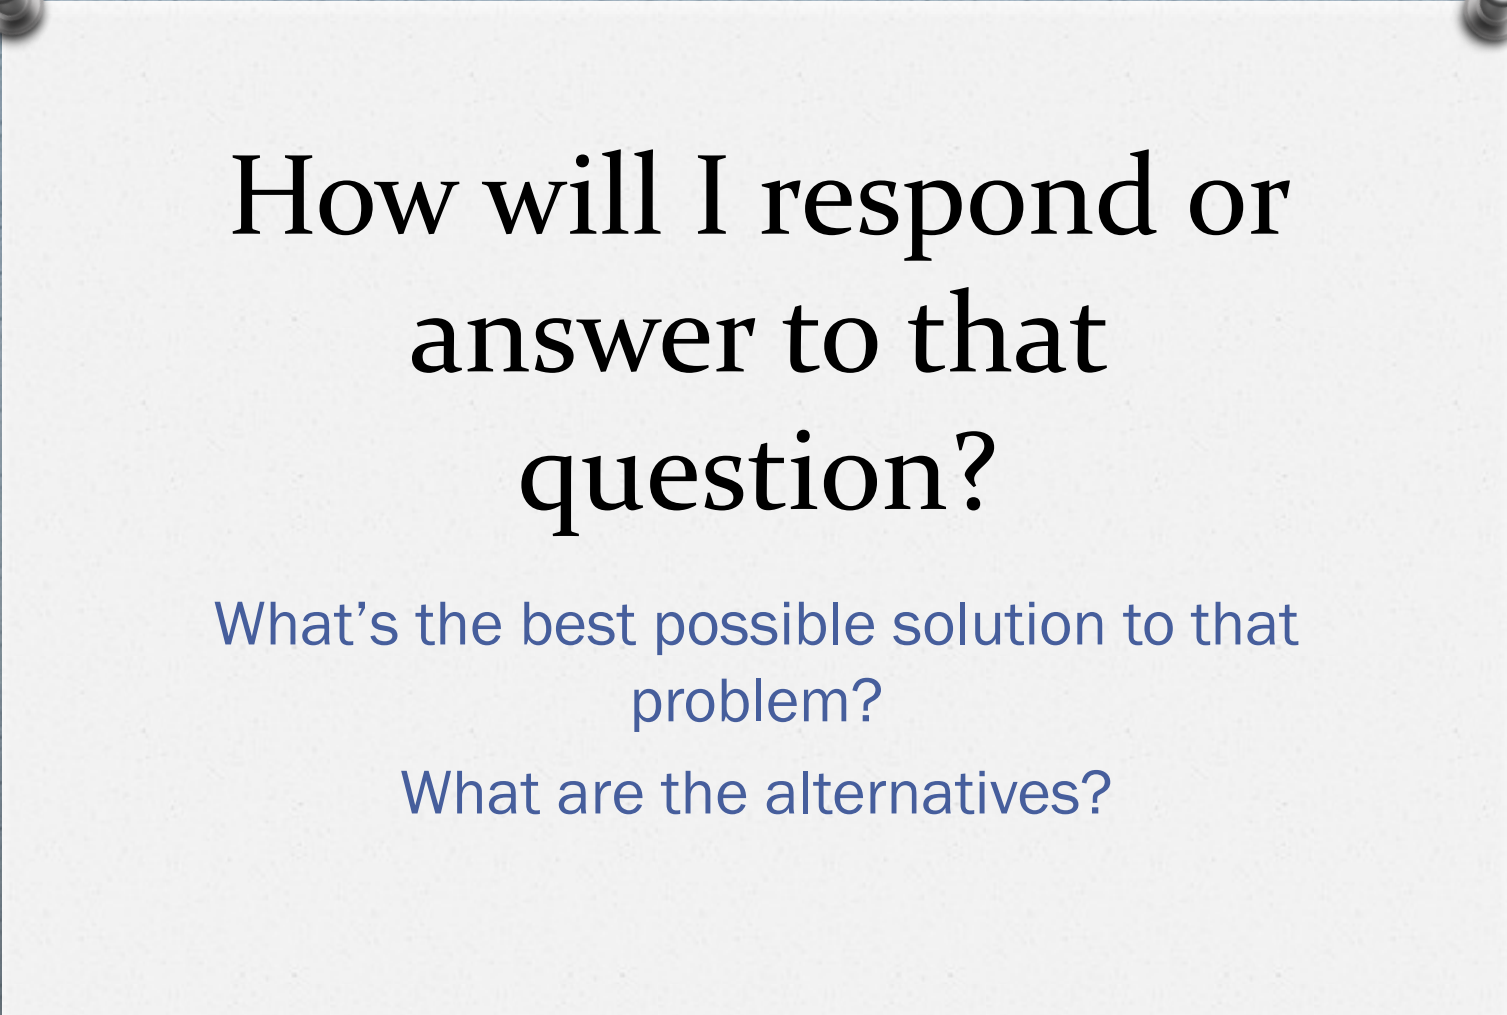

What is related with this problem?

What affects what and who is affected?

Who has done a lot
of work in this topic?

What kind of research has been done in this area?

How will I respond or answer to that
question?

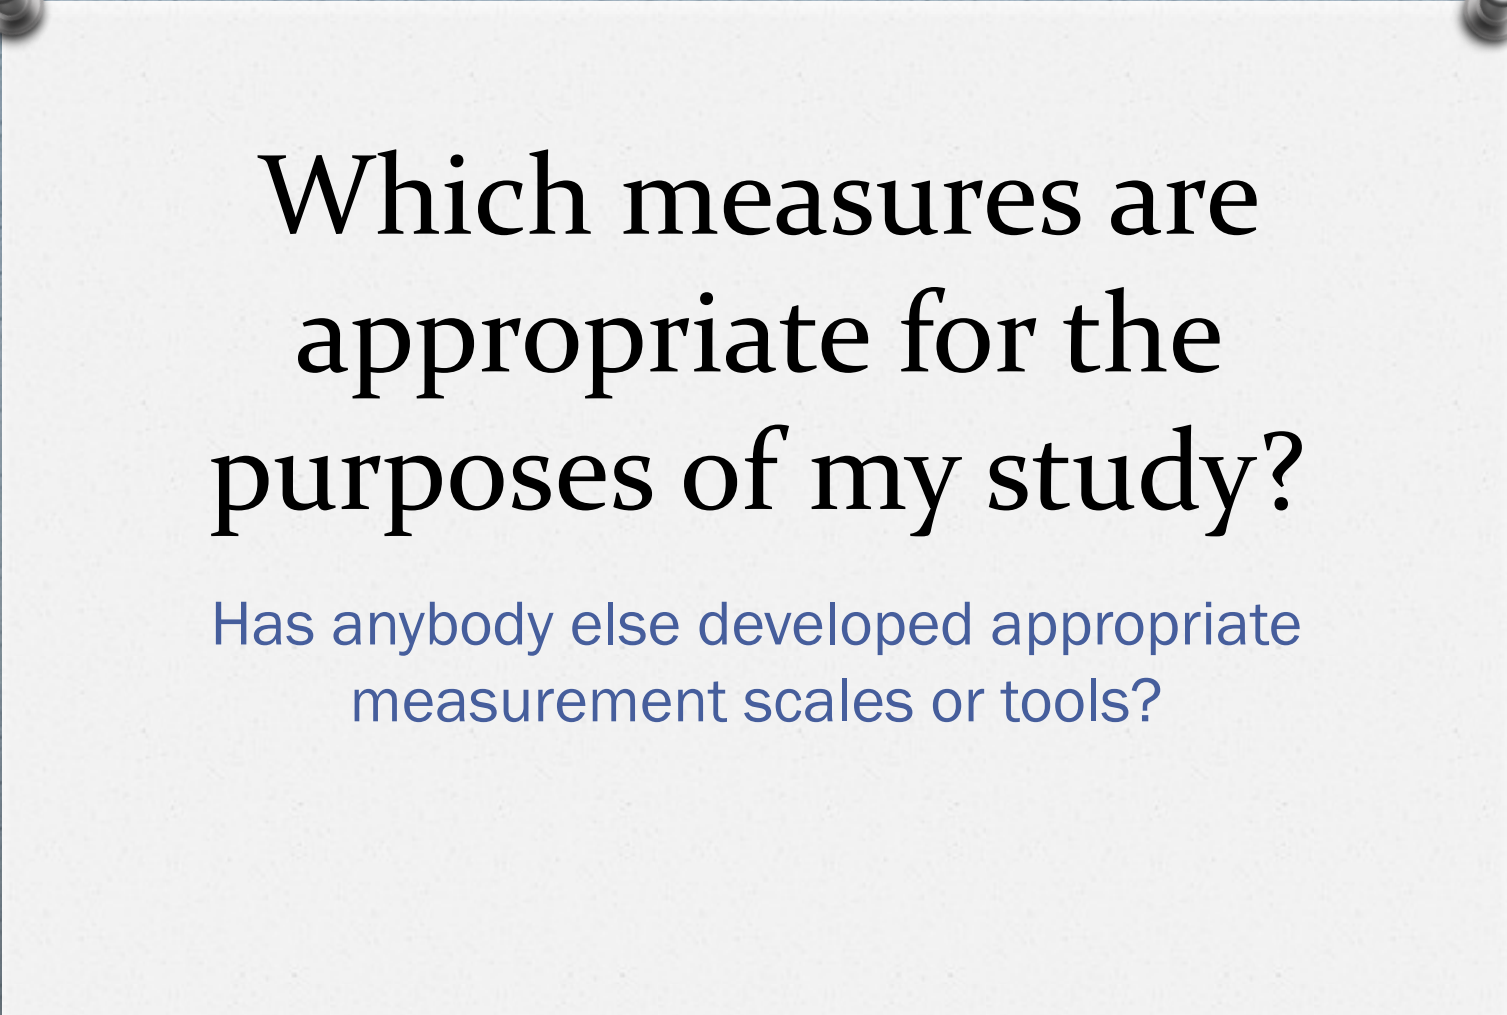

What's the best possible solution to that problem?

What are the alternatives?

Which population is more suitable in order
to answer the research
question?

How will I select the sample?

Which measures are appropriate for the purposes of my study?

Has anybody else developed appropriate measurement scales or tools?

Delimitations and limitations of my study?

Is everything under my control?